

SONGWON enters distribution partnership with Lehmann&Voss&Co.

Ulsan, South Korea – October 19, 2017 – SONGWON Industrial Co., Ltd., the second largest manufacturer of polymer stabilizers in the world and Lehmann&Voss&Co., a chemical company based in Hamburg, Germany announced that they have entered an exclusive distribution partnership for Fuel & Lubes antioxidants.

Effective as of October 2017, Lehman&Voss&Co., is now the exclusive distributor in the European market of all SONGWON's Fuel & Lubes antioxidants, including the aminic, phenolic and phosphite. Founded in 1894, Lehmann&Voss&Co. is a highly respected technological solutions provider and a supplier of chemical and mineral specialties.

Commenting on the recent addition to its distribution network, Dr. Olivier Keiser, SONGWON's Leader of Fuel & Lube Additives said: "We are pleased to be leveraging Lehmann&Voss&Co.'s expertise and local footprint to capitalize on the opportunities that are available in this important region. This partnership will enable us to ensure that SONGWON products reach a greater number of Fuel & Lubes antioxidants customers and support our target to grow our business long-term."

As SONGWON's exclusive distributor in Europe, Lehmann&Voss&Co. will use its expertise and its well-established European reputation for anticipating and servicing the needs of customers, to support SONGWON's aim to expand the business in this market.

“Our industry knowledge and decades of experience specifically in selling efficient additives, combined with SONGWON’s high performance solutions will make it possible for us to meet the increasing needs of customers in this region,” says Dr. Ulrich Lügger, Director BU Surface Technology, Lehmann&Voss&Co. “SONGWON’s broad range of Fuel & Lubes antioxidants complements Lehmann&Voss&Co.’s integrated distribution network. We are looking forward to a successful business relationship and the opportunity to contribute to strengthening SONGWON’s European presence.”
